If you're looking to give your dog a new challenge in terms of their training, you should choose the BarkPark Teeter Totter. Effectively built like a seesaw, the BarkPark Teeter Totter is an excellent new obstacle that you can introduce as part of your dog's training regime. The challenge that this Teeter Totter presents is that your dog must concentrate and control their balance in order to succeed in getting across. It may take them time and a lot of attempts, but once they have mastered this obstacle, the BarkPark Teeter Totter will really boost their confidence in terms of their balancing abilities. The balance itself is built from solid wood, meaning that it can support the weight of any dog. And it also comes in two different colors schemes to suit your tastes. You can choose the playful colors of red and blue, or opt for the more subtle colors of green and tan.
