Dog owners aren't the only ones who don't like to sit on the floor, the pooches themselves sometimes like to jump onto human seats, as most dog owners will know. The BarkPark Pooch Perch Bench provides your pets, and their owners, with the perfect place to have a comfortable rest during their visit to their local bark park. This Pooch Perch Bench features the laser cut dog themed details that can be seen on all other BarkPark products in order for it to fully coordinate with all of the components in your park. All of the furnishings have been coated in thermoplastic so it looks good and superior durability. They have also been covered in Canine Coat, which provides protection against UV rays, and also protects against vandalism and urine damage.
