The After While Crocodile Fun Bounce is a kids' exciting ride on the Nile River. It is the ideal piece of equipment to get anyone's imagination running. Preschoolers can hop on, go for a bounce and even take a break after long bouts of play. The After While Crocodile Fun Bounce can hold two children at once; so no kid has to explore the Amazon alone. It's designed to be inviting and easy to use. The handles on top allow for kids to adjust their weight and balance; minimizing potential falls and accidents. This bouncer is easy to install, takes up very little space and will add hours of play to any playground. It is made of hard, roto-molded plastic and powder-coat painted steel that are built to withstand repeated use. Bouncing through your imagination on a crocodile as a child has never been so stylish, silly and undeniably fun.
