Children will hop along to their next adventure on the Filbert Frog Fun Bounce. A green plastic body with widely spaced eyes, Filbert is sure to bring charm to your playground. His body is molded to create a natural indent and saddle for young riders to securely fit into as they bounce away. His mouth is set slightly agape giving his appearance a look friendliness to reassure new riders. For further comfort, a wide handle arches between his endearing eyes. He is set on a coil style spring providing a range of motion while being sturdy, lasting through many joyful passengers. Filbert Frog makes a great addition to any new or existing playground. If you'd like to complete a water theme to your playground, try adding the Bumbling Betsy Fun Bounce as well as the After While Crocodile Fun Bounce. Even with no other spring riders, Filbert will keep on hopping on to keep children entertained.
