Kids will be nimble on the Jack Be Quick Play Structure. Fun can be had on multiple levels while exploring this unit. Children can start a band with the Single Drum and Bongos located on the ground. The Wavy PE Rock Climbing Wall has roto-molded plastic footholds that are great for a quick escalation while preventing slips. The 90 Degree Trapezoid Loop Ladder adds another fun way to get to the slides. Kids will have to climb the Vertical Ladder, swing from loop to loop drop to the landing on the other side. Sliding with a friend is possible once the Double Wave Slide is reached. It's rotationally molded plastic design can hold two kids at the same time; turning a glide down alone into a social interaction. The Jack Be Quick Play Structure provides users with a plethora of benefits like improving physical health, creating social situations and getting endorphins flowing. This system can seemingly do it all!
