There is plenty of fun to be found for older kids on the Seth Playground Structure by SportsPlay. You will notice that the slides are at varied heights so even little ones can enjoy the shorter slide. The fantastic tunnel that connects the slides is like a secret hideaway while the roofs over the platforms help shield delicate skin from UV rays. This system is brightly colored to add to the excitement, but it is not all about adventure; this piece of equipment is designed to be safe too! Uprights can be ordered as either a 3.5-inch heavy duty or 5-inch super duty option. This system is ideal for kids 5 through 12-years-old, and is made for commercial use to meet CPSC guidelines. It even comes with an outstanding warranty that includes lifetime coverage on the aluminum clamps and steel support posts! This is equipment that you can feel good about having on your playground.
