Children will find their space among the playground trees on the Alder Arbor Play System. At just 4-feet tall at the highest decks, this structure might look like its short on height, but it sure isn't short on fun. The play system has two 4-foot Straight Slides exiting from either side of the structure. Beside one of the slides is our Jungle Climber that adds a bit of animal fun into playtime. Not far away, more adventurous children might scale the Wavy PE Rock Climbing Wall and then choose between the two slides. Designed for toddlers, preschoolers and elementary children, there is a little square with a Gear Panel, Store Panel and Bubble Panel on the ground level. It's conveniently located near the Transfer Station creating a close route between the ground level play and the structure's ADA accessible entrance. No matter how the tree is cut, the Alder Arbor Play System will add to your play space.
