The Tot's Nook Play System may be smaller in size but is overflowing with fun. Adorned with a Leaf Roof, this funky unit will transport children to a beachfront. This system is comprised of activity panels that serpentine into an "S" shaped design. This creates alcoves that kids can make their hideout while playing. Each panel brings something different to the playground. The Store Panel and Car Panel give children a window into the fantastical and the Drum Panel and Gear Panel are meant to be experimented with. When playing has turned into exhaustion, the Bench Panel is available to those who need a brief respite. Tot's Nook Play System isn't just an interactive wonderland, it can also be aesthetically appealing with its color customization. You can choose from a myriad of color variations to match your wants and needs. Make this unit as inviting as your own home.
