Swing into an afternoon of fun and adventure with the Small Adaptive Swing Seat. This swing is great for kids of all ability levels, giving them a structure that allows them to relax and feel the wind on their faces. This small adaptive swing provides support for children up to 125 pounds, while solid plastic seats offer excellent support, longevity, and comfort for kids ages two to five years old. The small seat is available with stainless steel or galvanized frame, while the harness comes in a beautiful sunny yellow or neutral tan. The state-of-the-art accessory uses an eight-foot top rail for added security and room. And the extended headrest adds support and provides exceptional comfort. Each swing seat includes a safety harness with five-point security to keep children safely fastened while swinging. Buy individually or as a set for hours of active play.
