The Perforated Square Portable Table by Webcoat is a textured polyethylene coated commercial-grade outdoor table with a powder-coated frame. It is exceptionally resilient against sun and rain and will stand up to years of regular use. This table is ideal for parks or outdoor areas that have many picnicking visitors. The table's perforations accelerate drying, which means less maintenance will be required. The unit is available in three or four-seat options to meet your needs. The tabletop and seat edges are gently curved to enhance comfort for arms and legs resting against them. The colors of the frame, tabletop, and seats can be altered from what you see here. Just speak to a salesperson to learn more about alternate tones and discuss any possible lead times. Although sold as a portable unit, the Perforated Square Portable Table also features pre-drilled holes in the frame for later surface mounting (mounting hardware not included)
