Square tables are often preferred because they offer everyone an equal amount of space and encourage the people sitting at them to engage with each other. Now, thanks to the accessible design of the ADA Accessible UltraLeisure Square Portable Table by Webcoat, everyone can sit together outdoors and enjoy a meal. The deliberate omission of a bench seat on one side of the table creates a space for those in wheelchairs to pull right up to the table's edge without any built-in seats or framework getting in their way. The table uses sturdy commercial-grade metals in its construction, but thanks to its hollow powder coated framework and expanded metal surfaces, it is still fairly lightweight, and easy to drag from one place to another. Table and seats are made of expanded #9 metal and covered in thermoplastic. It can be ordered in a variety of different exciting color options that are UV protected.
