Webcoat's Regal Octagon Portable Table is a backless, four-seat outdoor commercial-grade furniture unit that is both aesthetically pleasing and ruggedly durable. The tough metal framework can accommodate occupants of all shapes and sizes and withstand years of daily use. The expanded metal of the tabletop and bench surfaces allows air to flow through the furniture in order to cool down those enjoying the outdoors as well as accelerate the drying process after a shower. The octagonal shape of this table simplifies entry and exit from the benches, as there's no harsh table corner to accidentally brush up against. The abbreviated corners also reduce the chance of injury should someone unexpectedly run into that part of the table. The frame of the table is finished with a powder coat paint application and the seats and table are coated in a textured polyethylene. These finishes create long-lasting colors that maintain their vibrancy against the sun, rain, and snow. Call or email a AAA State of Play customer service representative to learn about alternate choices and discuss scheduling. The Regal Octagon Portable Table is sold as a portable unit. Surface and in-ground mounting equipment is sold separately.
