Whether you are redecorating a current picnic area or creating an entirely new one, you will love the versatility and mobility of the UltraLeisure Rectangular Portable Table by Webcoat. This outdoor eating option is available in either six or eight-foot lengths with attached seating of the same size. The seats are attached to the table for ease of mobility so you do not have to take multiple trips to move the furniture versus if it was separated into individual pieces. The true beauty of this portable table is found in the abundance of color options available that allow you to create your very own bold, unique looks no matter what décor you plan to use. The table and seats are painted in a strong and durable thermoplastic coating. The frame is available in black only, the top and seats are available in red, blue, black and green. All of these coats ensure enhanced durability to keep your outdoor furniture looking amazing.
