- Color coating offers additional protection
- Decide your size and mounting preference
- Resilient against weather and season damage
- Double seating option allows for additional seating

This Regal Style Square Frame Park Bench features the timeless Regal style, which features a large hole pattern carved into heavy expanded #9 steel. The square legs are constructed from 4-inch steel to create a highly durable, heavy-duty strength bench that will last for years. The frame is blanketed in a powder coat paint to protect it. This same durability carries over into the various textured polyethylene coating colors for the seat and seat back, which provide high-level protection against the weather and other seasonal damage like rusting, peeling, or cracking. Together, these options ensure that your investment will look good and perform beautifully for a long time. This Regal bench is available as single-sided six or eight feet options, or double-sided six or eight-feet options to provide ample seating. This bench offers multiple mounting options to choose from depending on your surface area.
