Highlights:

- Legs flows upwards into arm rests
- Contoured back enhances comfort
- Purchase add-ons to make longer benches
- Arm rests act as dividers between connected add-ons

This Modern Classic Style Park Bench with Back by Webcoat features a compelling design that looks great in any location. The vertical slatting of the contoured metal seat features a hint of rising and falling horizontal lines that visually helps make this outdoor furniture unit pop. This heavy-duty bench is built with a strong 2-3/8-inch powder-coated frame and is available in six and four-foot lengths. And if neither of those gets you enough seating for your location, there are also four and six-foot add-ons that can be added to any Modern Classic style park bench. Add-on sections then incorporate existing armrests of the primary bench as helpful dividers. Primary benches and add-ons are available in a range of colors that are applied as a durable textured polyethylene on the seats and a powder coat finish on the frames. Just contact a AAA State of Play salesperson to learn more about different shades and discuss scheduling. This commercial-grade seating solution is purchasable as either a combined portable/surface mount version or as an in-ground mountable unit.
