Your ship might spiral out of control from the fun of the 14-feet Deck Height Spiral Tube Slide - Slide and Supports Only. This tall slide boasts a hefty drop that turns itself as it helps to slow the rider's speed to a safe landing. The exit isn't the only thing that's safe about this slide with its commercial grade construction that is meant to withstand herds of small children. For additional strength, the support posts are both galvanized steel and they are powder coat painted in some of our custom colors, making it much more resistant to rust. The rotationally molded plastic, another industry standard commercial grade material, can be ordered in an array of colors or plastic to add a bit of intrigue to your design. Using this as part of a publically used installation or privately, you'll have confidence in the structural integrity even after years of use.
