With its abundant features and elements, the Serpent's Serac playground may just be your ideal solution. Offering a shade roof over one tower and a hex roof over the other, it also encourages kids to explore every inch of the space. There is a wave slide, pipe wall with scope, a triple rail slide, a bedrock climber, an exciting suspension bridge, a chain link climber, a spiral slide, and even some "play spaces" tucked in below. The café market panel offers everyone a place to use their imaginations, while the airplane panel also encourages creative time. Tables and benches below the playground also help encourage kids to socialize during playtimes as well. Ideal for ages 2-12, this impressive playground will hold from 48-52 kids at one time. With a use zone of 46'x38' it may be the ideal solution for any location in need of a flexible and comprehensive play area. With lengthy warranties on materials and components (some with 15-year warranties and lifetime warranties on the recycled posts), it is sure to last for many generations.
