Your kids or students will be jolly at the very sight of the Chisholm Trail playground. With its stepped design it encourages kids to explore every foot of play space. Most will head straight to the tri-rung horizontal ladder, but there is also a chain link climber that is tough to resist. Designed for ages 5 to 12, this recycled playground also has several raised platforms that leave a lot of room for activity panels and walls. There is a pipe wall, driving panel, rockwall climber, pipe ladder, and a bridge too. The triple rail and wave slides are always favorites, and with an ADA transfer station and DTD steps it is an accessible play space for all. It is also a durable spot and constructed of materials offering lengthy warranties. The use zone of 33'x38' allows it to hold from 29-33 kids at one time too, and provide lots of inspiring and active hours of play.
