Most kids are enchanted at some point in their lives by the Noah's Ark story, and the Two by Two playground is based on this classic and iconic theme. Kids instantly recognize the theme when they see the ship-like lines of this recycled playground and the various facade panels that depict images of the animals headed two by two into the ark. Inside, kids will be able to engage their most creative playtime as they see the ship's wheel, the bubble panels, and the crawl tunnel. A double A-frame roof on the unit also enhances that sense of a ship at sea, and this is a recycled playground meant for children from 0 to 5 years in age. With a use zone of 25'x30', and capable of holding from 9-13 kids in the recommended ages, this playground is also good for socialization thanks to a tic-tac-toe panel, café market panel, and a fun port hole feature. Constructed from long lasting materials, most of this structure has a 15-year warranty, but any of the recycled posts offer a lifetime of wear and tear.
