Deciding what type of play equipment to use for children ages 6 months to 2 years can sometimes prove difficult. This age range has a wide array of abilities as they learn and grow. The Discovery Center Super Sprout without Roof is designed with this age range in mind, including elements that can teach children during play. The 1-2-3 step is perfect for crawlers, walkers, or those in between, as it is easy to use to reach the main platform. Children can enjoy playing on the platform before taking an adventure on the learning wedge, a small slide. A clock panel and a shapes panel are included as interactive learning panels. Bongo drums and a rain wheel add to the discovery of different sounds. The Discovery Center Super Sprout without Roof is designed for outdoor use, but can be used indoors as well.
