The Circle Cycle Mini Pusher is a great playground addition for children ages 18 to 36 months. This unit is designed to help young children find their balance and work their muscle development and coordination. They will sit on the seat just as they would a bike, and use their legs to push the unit in a circle. Up to four children can play at once, so social and teamwork skills can be put to the test. However, one child can easily move the unit. A handle bar provides extra support and helps to keep children sitting up right on the unit. The wheels sit on a flat path that makes pushing the unit a little easier as the tires will not get stuck in cracks or holes. The Circle Cycle Mini Pusher can be used indoors and outdoors. It is recommended that the unit be placed on a completely flat surface to ease children in play. 18" Steel mounts available along with unit.
