Children from preschool to sixth grade will be crawling out from the woodwork for a chance on the Calling All Kids play system. Boasting triple Line Roofs, the structure takes on an immediately modern vibe. The home-like feel makes it easy for children to branch out from a traditional themed style of play and to let their imaginations really lead them. The Sea Creature Climber will guide them on a scuba diving adventure where they help their friends as part of rescue team. The Wavy PE Rock Climbing Wall allows them to scale walls just like the superheroes that they admire so much. They might suddenly be running away from a hurtling boulder as they cross the Bones Bridge or perhaps they walk across a rainbow if you choose to color it like a rainbow. They might slide down the mountain in the wake of an avalanche on any of the three slides on the structure. The one thing that is for sure is that the adventures will only be limited by their imaginations.
