Refine your body and achieve your dream look with the Royal Double Tai Chi Hand Swing, which is part of the royal fitness series. Tai Chi originated in China and offers a stress reducing, low impact workout for people of all ages. Not only this, but Tai Chi also helps to improve balance and flexibility. It is a magnificent addition to any outdoor fitness area, and can be purchased with an added resistance component to increase its value. This piece of fitness equipment is designed for you and one other to use, so up to two people can use it at once. If two people working out isn't enough the Triple Royal Tai Chi Hand Swing is the equipment for you. Both stations contain hardy materials that make a real difference. The powder-coat painted steel and roto-molded plastic are paramount for outdoor usage. Rain, wind, and rough exercise do not stand a chance. Patrons will get to a healthier place in a relaxing way.
