Help prepare your back muscles for a workout, or recover your muscles afterward with the Royal Double Back Massage. You will also help build the flexibility in your back with this piece of fitness equipment. This is part of the royal fitness series, meaning that instructions for its use come attached to the equipment. By incorporating this piece of fitness equipment as a part of your outdoor fitness area, you are encouraging your patrons to use it to relax their muscles, therefore getting the most out of their workout. This also prevents the number of injuries that can occur by working out on tight muscles. The Royal Double Station Back Massage is designed to be used by up to two people at a time. The frame of this piece of fitness equipment is made with powder-coat painted steel that will resist rusting. Come enjoy a pre or post workout massage.
