The Three Panel Craggy Pinnacle Climber offers kids numerous ways to climb, all built into one compact structure. Its three robust roto-molded plastic walls each have a unique pattern of foot holes, hand grips, and decals which present unique climbing challenges and simulate natural rock walls. Included on the climber is three different metal structures to climb as well: the simple ring steps, the more challenging curved ladder, and the tri connector in the center that holds it all together. Its cleverly designed shape makes the climber incredibly stable, even when used by numerous kids at once. This shape also allows for a wide range of climbing surfaces in a relatively small area. Kids will spend hours finding new ways to traverse the numerous and unique obstacles that make up this structure.
