The Three Panel Rope Challenger Freestanding Climber is a great addition to any playground as it can be used in a variety of ways. It has easy and harder climbing techniques thanks to its nylon coated steel netting and its rotational mold plastic panels with injection molded grips, which test a child's balance as well as strength. It invites children to a challenge to see how long they can stay on its metal frame while at the same time imagining they are climbing a rocky cliff or side of a pirate ship. With the plastic and grips available in a variety of colors the equipment can fit any theme and because the challenger is free standing it can go with any equipment. The Three Panel Rope Challenger Freestanding Climber melds fun and exercise into a long-lasting and exciting package. Kids won't be able to resist the challenge.
