The Freestanding Parallel Bar Ladder is a new twist on a playground classic. A standard overhead climber features rings to grab onto but this climber, is a solitary bar that extends from one end to the other. This adds a tantalizing challenge for determined children as well as a fun way to strengthen many important muscle groups. The Freestanding Parallel Bar Ladder is supported by extremely sturdy galvanized steel beams; ensuring this structure stands the test of time and can hold many eager children. All of the metal components are coated in a baked-on powder based paint that is long-lasting and comes in a variety of colors to match your ideal theme or existing play structures. This type of paint keeps the steel from rusting. Kids young and old will be lining up to test their skills on this robust, exciting and unique unit.
