The Cadence is a Freenotes instrument that is capable of making any outdoor space feel like tropical paradise. Its thirteen keys are made from high-quality fiberglass materials with a rich brown finish to produce both the appearance and the bright melodic notes of a wooden percussion instrument like a marimba. However, unlike an instrument with wooden parts, the Cadence can be kept outside in any weather conditions without having any problems with wear. Each half of its bowtie shape produces a different set of notes, which makes it an ideal instrument for allowing two musicians to play a duet. Its delightful voice will lend a bright undercurrent to the atmosphere of any area or musical ensemble, as well as an ideal creative outlet to children or adults of any musical talents or inclinations. The reinforced base is made from high quality recycled plastic materials, and can be mounted at a range of different heights to accommodate musicians of all sizes.
