The NatureROCKS Stepping Turtles are a wonderful addition to any playground or outdoor space. Children will enjoy hopping from one to the next, getting from one place to another without touching the ground. This product is a great source of both physical and creative exercise, as kids can jump back and forth while pretending they are crossing a river. Additional sets of turtles, or other Everlast Climbing products such as rocks and logs, can also be installed nearby for even more places to step. Each turtle is 4 inches high and 12 inches in diameter, making them short and wide enough for children as young as two years old to jump onto them and stand with both feet. They are constructed from durable fiberglass-reinforced concrete with a hand painted, weatherproof finish. The recommended installation process secures them in place with concrete to ensure that these turtles won't be going anywhere fast.
