Provide your playspace with a natural look and sturdy sitting comfort with the NatureROCKS Log Bench by Ultra Play. Every park and playground needs a place for kids to take a break and rest while talking to friends or doing quiet work. This log bench fulfills those needs and much, much more. Its highly decorative appearance gives it a very natural feel, which will conveniently match its outdoor surroundings. At the same time, its sturdy design built from glass fiber reinforced concrete allows it to handle the use of all the preschool and school-aged children who will inevitably want to plonk down for a bit throughout the day. If you have limited space, you can get the 4-foot version of this bench, which is perfect for three or four children to sit on at one time. Larger and more popular spaces may require the 6-foot version, which can accommodate five to six children. Regardless which length you choose, the 2-foot wide flat surface allows children to sit on either side, or to stretch out some paper and work on drawings or homework, or to engage in a cards or a tabletop game.
