The 4-foot Double Right Turn Slide is a small playground slide that children of all ages will enjoy. The double slide design offers two slides on the same structure, which is dramatically cheaper than buying two separate free-standing slides. The right turn shape makes one slide a little bit longer than the other, so that children can choose the one they prefer—or try both. This model also has an extra wide top deck to allow two children to line up on top of the slide at the same time. Both slides are molded together from the same piece of rotationally molded plastic, which makes them extremely durable, with more than enough strength to consistently and effortlessly support two school aged kids at once. It also features galvanized metal safety handrails along the stairs and top deck with a weatherproof baked-on powder coat paint.
