The Elite Belt Seat has a simple design that has been optimized to offer the best possible swinging experience. The flexible belt seat contours around the body of the person sitting around it. This ensures that the user is well supported and secure, and also means that the seat does not have any protrusions that could create air resistance to slow the rider down. A notable advantage the Elite Belt Seat has over similar swing seats is the hidden steel insert embedded within the plastic seats. This makes the seat incredibly sturdy, and almost impossible to tear. Since the insert is surrounded by plastic, it won't get too hot during the summer or too cold during the other seasons. The seat has two simple loops on either side of it, which makes it easy to attach chains to them. The seat can be ordered in a variety of colors so that you can match them with your other swing seats and your playground.
