- Curled edges on the back and seat for a more comfortable seat

The MyTCoat Ribbed Steel Rolled Edge Bench with Back is a useful bench with a stylish design made from durable steel woven into an eye-catching design. The ribbed steel design makes the bench incredibly sturdy, allowing it to withstand strong winds and harsh weather. The bench has a separate seat and back, offering guests a comfortable place to lean back while they sit for extended periods of time. The seat and back have a unique rounded design with neatly curved the edges to give them a safer and friendlier appearance. These parts also have a specialized thermoplastic coating that is durable and keeps your bench looking new even after years of use. The seat can come in three mounts: an in-ground mount to place it outside on the ground, a surface mount for concrete surfaces, and a portable one that allows you to move your seat anywhere you would like.
