

MyTCoat Honeycomb Steel Sport Bench with Back

MSRP $995.00

SALE $846.00

Highlights:

- Sturdily reinforced back and seat pieces
- Gap between seat and back promote airflow
- Extra wide 15-inch seats for upmost comfort
- Rounded corners on the ends for a sleek appearance

The MyTCoat Honeycomb Steel Sport Bench with Back is a rugged bench that is tough enough to handle just about anything on the field. The seat and back are made from durable steel with a pattern of circular holes that help it to stay dry. It even has a layer of thermoplastic coating that repels water and keeps the bench from getting too hot or too cold so that it can be used in any season. The coating can be applied in almost any color you like so that you can show off your team spirit with your own colors or blend in with the scenery. The coating comes in two types: Industry Standard or Advantage, with the latter being the more durable of the two. Ask a sales representative for more details. Its built-in back piece gives your players a chance to sit back for a moment so that they will be fully relaxed and energized when the time comes for them to get back into the game. It can even be built with a portable base, which allows this great bench to be there for your team on or off the field.