

MyTCoat Ribbed Steel Sloped Bench

MSRP $1,023.00

SALE $871.00

Highlights:

- Structurally sound steel frame and slats
- Flat armrests that then curve away for a level surface
- Gracefully sculpted rounded back that flows into the seat
- Built to handle the elements of outdoor and indoor public spaces

The Ribbed Steel Sloped Bench is a brilliantly designed outdoor bench that uses elegantly curved metal strips to create a seat that is both eye-catching and comfortable. This model features a complete seat and back, which are connected to each other. This allows the back of the bench, which is curved to imitate the shape of a person's spine, to extend to both the upper and lower lumbar regions. The bench has two armrests on each side which provide some additional comfort and perfectly match the design of the metal slats. The Ribbed Steel Sloped Bench stands on two sturdy metal legs, which can be given in-ground mounts, surface mounts, or portable mounts to help them stand. In-ground mounts and surface mounts are ideal for permanent installation on any outdoor terrain or surfacing, but for a more flexible mounting option that allows the bench to be moved around we recommend the portable mount.
