The Arched Metro Bench by MyTCoat is a quality design that features an attractive arched back. This stylish choice adds more charm to an already functional design. Make your park or business not just a place for a casual sit but an attractive, upmarket gathering place. Add your own style and quality elements by choosing from our wide variety of color options and getting the coating that fits your needs. All coatings are weather-resistant, but a powerful Advantage coating is sure to keep the bench not just remaining usable but looking good for years to come. Finally, the Arched Metro Bench also has the option to be either portable or surface mounted, which means you can either mount it permanently where it will always grab attention or move it where it will be most useful day-to-day.
