With the Honeycomb Steel Portable Frame Picnic Table, convenient and durable outdoor dining furniture can go with you to wherever you need it. The whole point of picnics is bringing food outside so that you can pick the nicest spot you can find to enjoy it. Your picnic table should be able to move right to that spot. The portable base allows it to easily be dragged along the ground by one person or lifted at each end and carried by two. Since the two bench pieces are attached, there is no need to make multiple trips. The tops of the seats and table are made from durable commercial-grade steel with a lively pattern of round holes cut into it that makes the table more lightweight and helps it to stay dry. The metal is coated with a soft but strong thermoplastic that protects the metal and insulates it from rain and high temperatures. Choose a vibrant color of your choice from a wide selection of powder coatings. Contact a sales representative for more details.
