For a table that is perfect for any activities anywhere, the Expanded Metal Portable Frame Round Table cannot be beaten. This table has a round top where everyone can face each other, making the table perfect for social activities. With the cleverly designed curved seats, everyone has the same amount of access to the center of the table, making it perfect for card games and other group activities. The portable base requires no additional installation costs and allows the table to be moved around with ease. The lightweight steel surfaces of the table and seats are made from durable steel in a diamond-shaped lattice that reduces weight and materials without sacrificing durability. For additional strength, the frame is powder coat painted to keep out the elements and corrosion at bay while the seats and tabletop are thermoplastic coated in Industry Standard or Advantage for protection as well.
