You'll be able to heighten the excitement at any dog park through the addition of the MyTCoat Dog Stepping Pads, a fun agility activity sure to help canines improve their intelligence and dexterity. This kit comes with five individual stepping pads, which are elevated to different heights to provide a decent challenge for dogs as they begin the upward climb across. Skilled dogs will be able to step from one platform to the next, clearing all five steps without touching the ground. While others might need a few attempts before they get the hang of the obstacle. The pads are 16-inches wide, which is spacious enough to accommodate both front and back paws for most dog breeds. Each pad is accented with an adorable bone image and employs tough steel support beneath. The supports are powder coat painted to ensure durable brightness. And the top of each step is coated in a specially formulated thermoplastic coating.
