The MyTCoat Expanded Metal Single Post Square Table provides a ready spot for whatever you are doing. Whether it's to eat, talk, do work, or even just to sit, tables are places for people to gather. The powder coat painted steel frame offers support to each of the floating seats. The seats and tabletop are painted in a thermoplastic coat to make them more resistant to corrosion. An Advantage coating is available for premium protection. The expanded steel creates a mesmerizing pattern of diamonds across the surface of the table and seats. Safety is an important consideration which is why the corners are rounded and edges are smooth. The tabletop and seats may be made from expanded steel, but the edges of that steel are artfully tucked away to keep any occupants safe. No matter the color, this table will always deliver upstanding quality.
