The Farmer's Market Playhouse helps children participate in today's community-driven and eco-conscious world. Children can pretend to buy, trade, and sell food through a easy-to-build frame and decorative storefront. Complete with signage and engraved produce imagery, even the youngest aspiring entrepreneurs can set up shop in any park or playground. This 140 lb playset runs 4 feet high, 4 feet wide, and 5 feet 3 inches deep, making it an ideal fit for toddlers and young children. It also comes with a built-in shelf for storing products. With sturdy, tested materials, you can be sure your children will be safe in this playhouse. The design gives just enough to set the stage for your kids' imaginations to run wild, and you can get it for the best price right here at AAA State of Play.
