The Child Picnic Table from Infinity is a great way to give your kids a space to eat and play that's uniquely their own. This piece of portable, multi-purpose outdoor furniture is light enough it is easy to move and relocate based on specific needs. Not just relatively light, this table is also designed to be the perfect size for preschoolers. Constructed with a powder coated metal frame and commercial grade high-density polyethylene plastic top, this structure is built to endure the outdoor elements as well as the rigorous play of young children. In addition to its strength, the table is also a bright and attractive item on its own, and with multiple colors available, you can make sure it's designed to match your location's look. Whether your young ones are looking for a place for tea parties, snacks, or arts and crafts, this table can provide all of that and more!
