The Happy Time School Bus offers kids the chance to pretend they're going to school while on the playground. With three benches, each with two steering wheels so each child has the option to play the role of the bus driver or a student. Commercial-grade HDPE plastic guarantees safety and quality for kids, and a long-lasting investment for the owners. Named for the smiley-face on the front of the structure, this design delivers enough of a theme to set the stage, but leaves room for kids' imaginations to run wild. Springs underneath the frame provide a gentle thrill that's perfectly exhilarating for older toddlers and young children. Now, the package includes in-ground mounting stakes for permanent installation.
