The Honeycomb Steel Portable Frame Octagon Table is one of MyTCoat's strongest models of portable outdoor tables, allowing it to be dragged or carried wherever it needs to go without worries about it being damaged. Whether needing new placement for events or for seasonal cleanup, this table is one of the best choices you can make for simple movement. The honeycomb-patterned steel sheets that make up the surface of the 46-inch table and its seats are resilient. The strength is extended even more with its protective layer of thermoplastic coating. This thermoplastic layer is specially engineered to resist water, dirt, and stains, making the table easy to clean and rust-free. MyTCoat offers an extra-thick Advanced thermoplastic coating, which offers extra protection and color choices. Each bench is supported by two posts from the mainframe. The entire mainframe is powder coated for added durability to hold up through years of use.
