For busy outdoor locations, the best furniture is portable furniture. MyTCoat has you covered with the Honeycomb Steel Square Patio Table. The square shape ensures that each person sitting at the table has a fair amount of space to eat, work, or even play a game at. The table itself is supported by four pairs of sturdy, powder coat painted, galvanized steel tubes. This system is further braced by an x-shaped configuration in the center, providing the users with confidence in its strength. The table has further reinforced under the tabletop by way of an inner square support. Another feature that is worth noting is the central umbrella port to place an umbrella for shade and extra weather protection for both guests and the table. The look for your outdoor space can be completed by matching these durable tables with a set of Honeycomb Steel Stacking Chairs. Ask a sales associate for more color options.
