

MyTCoat Honeycomb Steel Occupational Table

MSRP $759.00

SALE $646.00

Highlights:

- Thermoplastic coated top gives it extended durability
- L-shaped legs allow for added strength and stability
- Same great quality like as other MyTCoat outdoor tables
- Centrally located brace under the main table frame adds additional support

The Honeycomb Steel Occupational Table is a sturdy outdoor or indoor table that can be used for any number of purposes. Its long, rectangular shape makes it great for arts and crafts, two-player games like chess where people sit across from each other, and countless other activities. It can also be used for bake sales and outdoor booth events. Since there are various lengths of tables available ranging from 4 to 8 feet, there is plenty of space for whatever uses you have in mind. The table does not come with seating as it makes it easier to move for different purposes. This also makes it so that you can use whatever seating fits your preference. The surface of the table has a thermoplastic coating that guards it against scratches, dents, corrosion, and rust. There is an extra-thick Advanced coating offered for even greater protection.