The MyTCoat Honeycomb Steel Single Post Square Table should be squarely at the top of your list of potential outdoor furniture purchases. The unit's square shape immediately places everyone at equal distances from the objects assembled on the table. The table's attractive design also incorporates a key feature that will speed along the cleaning process for the area around the table. Its four bench seats are each connected to the central support pedestal. Not having any disconnected seats to scoot out of the way lets you or your maintenance team more easily get brooms, mops, or vacuum hoses to the ground beneath the table, which can be a big help! Patrons of your venue will find comfort in the perforated top and seats that allow for airflow and facilitate drainage, which speeds up drying after a day of rain. The seats have safely rounded corners which helps prevent accidental injury as well as being more comfortable for occupants to brush their legs against compared to harsher angled seats. Choose from among a multitude of coating colors in various finishes. .
