Interconnected rings on a four legged structure are what forms the Hoop Climber. The five hoops come in various sizes creating a staggered climbing experience that forces children to work on their agility. Children can climb up and hang on easily with the long horizontal bars that cross the vertical legs. The whimsical shape will add an element of wonder to any play area. It can become a castle, a basketball goal or anything to a creative mind. The shape lends itself well to versatility of play and is an excellent component to add to a new or existing playground.
