The R-Town Cottage is one of our nicest playhouse models available for purchase. Not only does it have a vibrant and exciting color scheme, it also has a lot of fun features built into its design. The front porch complete with a portico over the front entrance is a nice touch which makes the outside of house a great place to play as well as the inside. The windows on each side of the house let in plenty of sunlight, and have wacky slanted shapes to let kids know that this is a place for fun.
