Blend school and playtime together with the R-Town Schoolhouse. This playhouse for preschool aged children has a classic schoolhouse design with a tower on top and a portico over the entrance. It even has a porch area in the front. The overall base of the structure measures 4 by 6 feet, offering plenty of space for multiple small children to play inside. The large windows with wacky shapes let in plenty of sunlight, and allow adult supervisors to check in on them. You can install it alongside other playhouse models to complete your town.
